

News from the Library

A Newsletter of the Central Carolina Community College Libraries Vol. 8, No. 1 Jan. 2008

Spotlighting NC LIVE Databases

This month over 200 Public Television programs will be available through NCLIVE. Topics covered include biographies, history, science, the arts, and many more. Excellent information and entertainment are provided for your interest and enjoyment via this premier library resource. A program list can be found at <http://media.nclive.org/browse\_videos.phtml>

Are you interested in the current political races or in general current events? The full-text NCLIVE database NewsBank, is searchable and contains twelve national and regional news resources. North Carolina news is covered by a selection of twenty-two major and smaller local North Carolina newspapers. Using NewsBank saves you time researching both current and past news items from multiple sources in one place.

Britannica Online has 3000+ extended play videos and video clips covering a wide range of topics that may be accessed either through the Video Collection Box or through links in the search results. Especially useful is the capability to download the videos for Power Point presentations.

New Books at the Library

If one or your New Year's resolutions is to read more books, you might want to check out:

Animal, vegetable, miracle: a year of food life

Sampling of Library Journal's List of Best Books of 2007

<www.libraryjournal.com/article/CA6510658.html>

Einstein: his life and universe by Walter Isaacson

A well researched definitive biography.

Slave ship: a human history by Marcus Rediker

A sobering account based on narratives of slave ships and their cargo revealing the horrendous realities of the slave trade.

The Children of Hurin by J.R.R. Tolkien
A tragedy set in "Middle Earth" six millennia before the Lord of the Rings trilogy.

The Elephant in the playroom: ordinary parents write intimately and honestly about the extraordinary highs and heartbreaking lows of raising kids with special needs edited by Denis Brodey

The Exception by Christian Jungerson
A fascinating psychological thriller about ordinary office workers and office politics gone bad.

The Zookeeper's wife: a war story by Diane Ackerman
A tale of courage about hiding Warsaw Ghetto Jews during WW II.
