In an exciting first-time collaboration, writers featured in Volume 9 of The Red Clay Review will read their work too. In keeping with its theme of food, we'll have plenty of refreshments. Copies of the latest edition of the Red Clay Review will be available for free.

Notes to writers who plan to read.

- Sign in when you arrive.
- You'll read in the order you signed in. (Hint: if you want to read later in the evening, sign at the bottom of the page!)
- You'll have six minutes, including any introductions, background information, and closing remarks you wish to make.
- Our timekeeper is kind but firm.
