

News from the Library

Color Printing Price

We've lowered our color printing prices!

All color print outs are now $0.25 per page.

Charging Cables

Is your phone dead? Stop by the library to recharge.

The Library now has cables to charge devices from Apple, LG, Nokia, Samsung, and more!

Check one out at the Information Desk.

Spotlight on Success

In the 2014-2015 school year, the library wants to highlight student success!

Each month we plan to spotlight different programs at CCCC, and student success in those programs. Each display will include books and materials relevant to the program, a highlight of the digital resources the library offers to students in that program, displays of student work, and a spotlight on a faculty member.

This month we want to look at student support services. We want students to know about some of the great CCCC Resources, such as the Academic Assistance Center, the Career Center, the Reading and Writing Center, Success Coaches, and Veteran's Upward Bound. We have displays for these great programs, as well as information about how the Library can help students achieve their goals and succeed in every aspect of their education.

Stop by the Library to see what we're doing, and contact us if you have ideas about your program's spotlight.

Still don't have your student ID?

Stop by the Library to have your Student ID printed and learn about all the perks this important card can get you.

From access to the gym, to food on Student Activity Day, this is one card you don't want to be without. And don't forget, your ID functions as your Library card too. So if you want to borrow books for class, or check out a DVD to watch over the weekend, you need your card printed and registered in our system.

Stop by the Library to get your ID during the first week of classes and receive a goody bag from the Library!

Overdue Notices Straight to Your Inbox

Keep an eye out for emails from the Library. Starting this semester, overdue notices will be emailed to patrons.

In addition to these notices, the Library will send due date reminders to you before your item's due date. We hope this service helps all of our users to stay organized. Next time you stop in the Library, check that we have your current and correct email address.

Welcome, Kimberly!

If you notice a new face behind the Information Desk in the evenings, take a moment to say hello to our new Library Assistant, Kimberly Steiner!

Kimberly comes to us from W. L. Gore where she worked in the company's archives. With a background in archival work and art preservation, she brings a valuable skill set to the Library as we continue organizing and digitizing the College Archives.

In addition to helping with this project, she will be helping with circulation functions and maintaining our periodicals collection. She works Monday through Thursday, from 4 PM to 8 PM. Stop by and welcome her to CCCC!

New Resources Now Available

This fall, the Library is introducing two new digital services to help you meet your educational and personal goals.

Our new EBSCO E-Book collection provides access to 50,000 new downloadable e-book titles, aimed at the academic and trade information needs of community college students like you.

Now Available through the Integrated Search and NC LIVE

Find books from North Carolina Publishers with the new Homegrown E-Book Project from NC LIVE.

Find more than 1,000 e-books including popular and scholarly nonfiction, novels by well-known North Carolina authors, and award-winning short fiction and poetry. There is no limit to the number of users who can download a title, and the resource supports multiple users downloading at once.

Now Available through NC LIVE

New Resources Coming Soon

For our Nursing and Allied Health students, our new database, Ovid, will provide access to Nursing journals such as the American Journal of Nursing, Nursing Critical Care, Nursing Made Incredibly Easy, and more.

Outside of class, our new e-Book platform, Axis 360 will provide access to popular reading materials, from the latest bestsellers to fun non-fiction. Like our print collection, this resource will continue to grow based on our users' needs, so share your feedback with

Attention Distance Education Instructors!

Library Research Guides are here to help your distance education students succeed! Library Research Guides includes helpful hints on how to:

- Successfully complete library research
- Find articles or books for all classes offered at CCCC
- Get help at the library

Find a list of class guides here: <http://cccc.libguides.com/> Please consider linking a Library Research Guide to your Blackboard page or syllabus.

While you're at it, check out the Distance Education Library Services page (<http://www.cccc.edu/library/distanceeducation/>) for our complete guide to library services for DE users. Librarians can help your students find, evaluate, and use academic information to successfully complete their assignments from a distance.

Contact the library if you or your students have any research-related questions.

New Collaborative Study Rooms (and more) Coming Soon

The CCCC Library has been awarded two LSTA Grants by the State Library of North Carolina.

A Literacy and Lifelong Learning Grant in the amount of $18,760 will fund a project to convert library study rooms into technology-enhanced collaborative study rooms.

The rooms will be equipped with a 40" touch screen computer with MS Office software, Internet connectivity for online research, and a high-definition webcam so students can work together on group projects and record presentations for class assignments.

A Planning Grant in the amount of $26,225 will pay a consultant to evaluate the facilities space at the Lee and Harnett libraries.

The consultant will determine how the libraries can better utilize existing space and make plans for future library facilities needs. Students, faculty, and staff will be asked to participate in focus groups and surveys to assess what each group needs in a library of the future. Watch for announcements later this semester for opportunities to participate!

LSTA funds awarded by the State Library of North Carolina are made possible through funding from the federal Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS) under the provisions of the Library Services and Technology Act as administered by the State Library of North Carolina, a division of the Department of Cultural Resources.
