It's Fall Y'all!

Fall Semester 2011

The CCCC Libraries now have new online databases available. Several new resources are available through Salem Press. You will notice that these are grouped into three areas: Salem Health, Salem History, and Salem Science. Salem Health includes the Magill's Medical Guide and Psychology and Mental Health. Salem History includes Milestone Documents in American History and Weapons and Warfare. Salem Science includes the Encyclopedia of Global Warming, the Encyclopedia of Global Issues, and Forensic Science. All of these are fully searchable database versions of the print editions (which the libraries also own), and are accessible on campus and from home with a password.

Another new resource is the Sharpe Online Reference (SOLR) database. Titles in this collection of online reference sources offer a unique, interdisciplinary approach to U.S. history, global history, culture, and social issues. Supplementary material includes primary documents, audio/visual clips and images, as well as links to approximately 1,000 reliable websites. Titles now available in this collection include: American Presidential Campaigns and Elections (1788-2008); Social Issues in America; American Social Movements; Latino History and Culture; Asian American History and Culture; America in World History; Global History – Cultural Encounters; and Conflicts Since World War II. This database is accessible on campus and from home with a password.

In partnership with the Small Business Center, we now have over 200 eBook titles, 16 eAudio Book titles, and 800 eVideo titles for business and economics. These collections are funded by the Small Business Center and are available on campus and from home with a password. The eBook and eAudio Book titles are available through NetLibrary, an eBook database available via NC LIVE. Lists of titles available are on the library web page at www.cccc.edu/library/resources/ under the description for Small Business eBooks & eAudio Books (via NetLibrary on NC LIVE). The eVideo titles are available through Films on Demand for a 3-year lease. Video segments can be easily embedded into your Blackboard courses.

Please take a look at these new resources, as well as our other online databases, to see how you might incorporate these into your classes. Passwords for home access to all databases are available on the Intranet under the Library's helpful files. If you would be interested in bringing your class to the library for instruction on any of our databases, please contact Mary Coleman, Reference and Instruction Librarian, at 718-7340. We look forward to seeing you in the library!

Facebook

The library now has its own Facebook page. To become a fan, please visit our Facebook page at www.facebook.com/cccclibrary.

'Try to Remember'

A Library Lab Class Schedule is located on the bulletin board next to the back door of the computer lab in the Lee library.

Password changes for library databases are always posted in the library section on the Intranet for instructors to pass on to their students.
